Who are the Gifted?

While there is no single definitive definition of gifted and talented most states agree that the definition include: Students with gifts and talents perform – or have the capability to perform – at higher levels compared to others of the same age, experience, and environment in one or more domains.

Who are the Gifted...

Continued

- Come from all racial, ethnic, and cultural populations, as well as all economic strata.
- Require sufficient access to appropriate learning opportunities to realize their potential.
- Can have learning and processing disorders that require specialized intervention and accommodation.
- Need support and guidance to develop socially and emotionally as well as in their areas of talent.

Average IQ = Score of 100

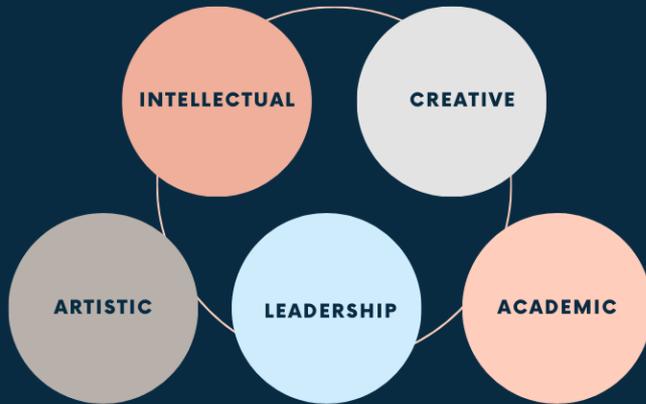

scores that are...

<70 = presence of developmental or learning disability

>130 = indicate giftedness

Five Domains of Giftedness

FIVE DOMAINS OF GIFTEDNESS

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR GIFTED CHILDREN

- Children may be gifted in one or more domains
- Children may demonstrate advanced abilities in mathematics, for example, while performing like same age peers in other subjects

Traits of Giftedness

Cognitive 	Creative 	Affective 	Behavioral
Interest in problem-solving and applying concepts	Creative & Inventive	Unusual emotional depth & intensity	Boundless enthusiasm
Critical Thinkers & Problem Solvers	Keen sense of humor	High expectation of self and others - leads to frustration	High levels of frustration when not meeting perfectionistic standards
Persistent goal directed behavior	Ability for fantasy	Advanced levels of moral judgment	Insatiable curiosity – constantly questions
Large Vocabulary; Voracious and early reader	Independence in attitude and social behavior	Easily wounded - need for emotional support	Impulsive, eager and spirited
Diversity of interests & abilities	Commitment to self-selected work	Heightened self-awareness	Spontaneous and highly energetic
Independence in work and study	Intuitiveness and Flexibility	Sensitivity or empathy to the feeling of others	Non-stop talking and chattering

Asynchronous Development

Asynchronous Development

Dr. Joyce Juntune, Texas A&M University, 2000

“Gifted individuals are those who demonstrate outstanding levels of aptitude (defined as an exceptional ability to reason and learn) or competence (documented performance or achievement in top 10% or rarer) in one or more domains.”

—National Association for Gifted Children (NAGC)

Misconception

high-achieving
gifted

GATE identified students are not automatically placed in honors classes. GATE identification serves as one factor when junior high determines appropriate class placement.

Misconception: high-achieving ≠ gifted

A high-achieving learner...	A gifted learner...
Remembers the answers	Poses unforeseen questions
Is attentive	Is selectively mentally engaged
Generates advanced ideas	Generates complex, abstract ideas
Enjoys the company of age peers	Prefers the company of intellectual peers
Enjoys school often	Enjoys self-directed learning
Completes assignments on time	Initiates projects and extensions of assignments

How to Support at Home

01

Make time to talk everyday and encourage active questioning.

02

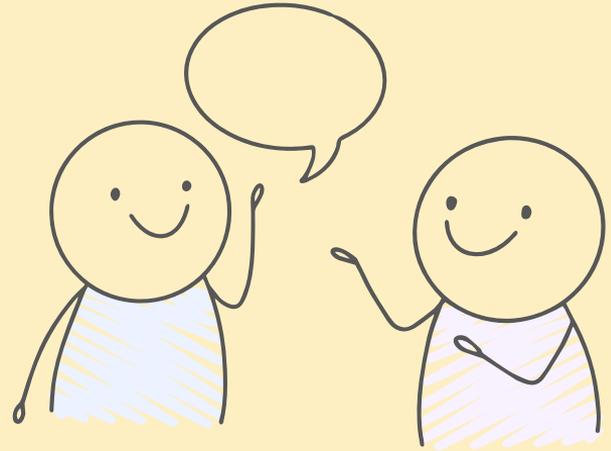

Allow freedoms or responsibilities appropriate for their emotional or social development.

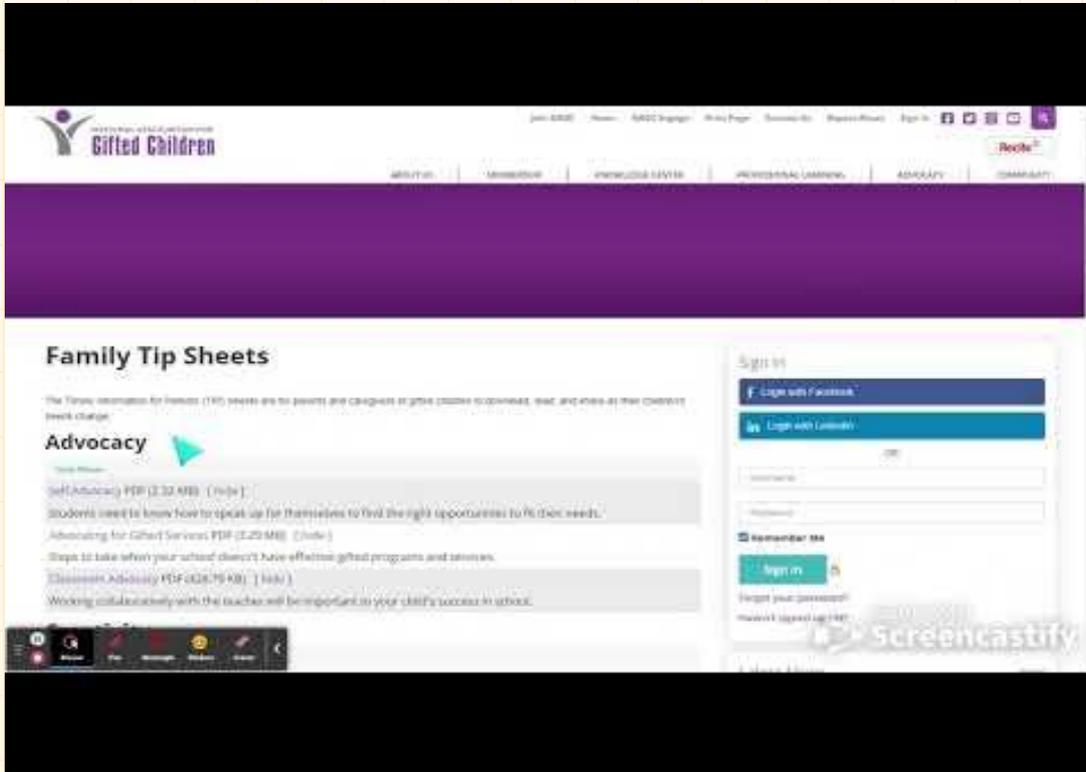

03

Provide enrichment and challenges outside of school.

04

Encourage child to take risks and celebrate mistakes as learning opportunities.
