

Technological advances present novel and complex issues for our schools when it comes to providing a safe school environment, monitoring social networking activities and handling disciplinary actions.

CTAP Region IV has designed this collection of Administrator Resources specifically to address the needs of school administrators, based on the most current information available.

A companion component, Acceptable Use, covers policies around computer and internet usage, cell phones, cyberbullying and social networking.

Be sure to check the six other areas of our cybersafety web site for resources that address the curriculum and educational needs of classroom teachers, parents and students
